WELCOME TO NEVADA!

As governor of the Silver State, I want to personally thank you for visiting. Whether you're here for business or leisure, please accept my invitation to discover everything you can about this wonderful place that my family and I call home.

If you're looking for adventure, excitement, relaxation, or the deep roots of history, you've come to the right state. Nevada offers visitors a wide range of experiences, from the bustling gaming floors of our world-renowned resort-casinos to the snow-capped mountains where our beautiful state earns its name. Somewhere between the sparkling golden lights of the Las Vegas Strip and the turquoise water of the largest alpine lake in North America, Lake Tahoe, you will find an incomparable desert landscape that holds beautiful vistas and colorful towns for you to explore.

Through the pages of this guide, you'll begin to see what sets this great state apart from the rest. This guide gives you the information you need to make the most of your trip to Nevada, the Battle Born State at the heart of the American West.

There is so much to explore in Nevada, and I invite you to come make your own memories.

Sincere regards,

Brian Sandoval, Governor

WELCOME TO NEVADA

We're thrilled you've decided to discover how a visit to this most extraordinary state can enhance your outlook, increase your sense of adventure, and maybe even help you check a few experiences off your bucket list.

From the moment you cross the state line you'll sense it... a feeling you get in Nevada you won't find anywhere else. You'll marvel at the spectacular diversity of the landscape, be amazed at the twinkling lights of Las Vegas or of the crystal clear star-lit skies, and be transformed by the characters you'll meet. You'll wear a smile you just can't erase. You'll become that happy person you'd forgotten about. And, mostly you'll feel yourself breathe.

Take some time to explore Nevada's wondrous treasures that are often just a short drive off the highway or just beyond the horizon. That's the most amazing thing about Nevada... the joy of the journey is often its own reward. Some of the world's most stunning natural, historic, and scenic wonders can't be seen from the road. Plan to venture onto the backroads and byways to find hidden vistas, uncover perfectly preserved historic sites, and locate one-of-a-kind places that create indelible memories.

This year we're making it easier for you to explore Nevada. This guide is now available online with additional interactive content and you can download an app that will guide you to Nevada's secret and well-known treasures. And be sure to connect with us on your social networks for live and ongoing conversations with fellow Nevada fans. You'll be able to find, accomplish, and share your bucket list experiences... they're all waiting for you, right here in Nevada.

CELEBRATE NEVADA'S 150TH BIRTHDAY

There's nothing Nevada does better than throw a party, and we're going to do it up right for the state's 150th birthday! Join the festivities beginning Oct. 31, 2013, and continuing through 2014. By way of myriad activities and events, visitors and residents alike will be able to celebrate what makes the state so special.

Nevada's history was formed by pioneering mavericks with a drive toward exploration, tenacious singularity and passionate risk-taking. It's through this inimitable courage that Nevada drove its stake as a state 150 years ago. There's no better time to rekindle this bold spirit of adventure than when the state celebrates its past and maps its future. For more information visit TravelNevada.com.

It's a good thing smart phones are equipped with cameras, because Nevada's cities, towns, and rural expanses offer so many photo opportunities you'll want to be ready at a moment's notice.

1 WELCOME TO FABULOUS LAS VEGAS—You've seen it on film, T-shirts, belt buckles, and novelty shot glasses—the iconic sign at 5100 Las Vegas Boulevard South is among the most photographed on Earth. No trip to Las Vegas is complete without striking a pose beneath the 1959 Sin City symbol. A replica sits on Boulder Highway north of Tropicana Avenue, and a "Welcome to Fabulous Downtown Las Vegas" sign on Las Vegas Boulevard north of Wyoming Avenue marks downtown.

2 RENO ARCH—"The Biggest Little City in the World" has sported its iconic downtown arch since 1926. Be mindful of traffic while snapping your shot at the intersection of Virginia Street and Commercial Row, then walk a few blocks southeast to Lake Street near the Truckee River where the original arch resides.

3 LAKE TAHOE—It would be difficult—if not impossible—to find a bad vantage point from which to photograph the country's largest and most picturesque alpine lake. Virtually every inch of its 72-mile shoreline affords breathtaking views. One suggestion is the turnout just before Incline Village traveling from Reno on State Route 431.

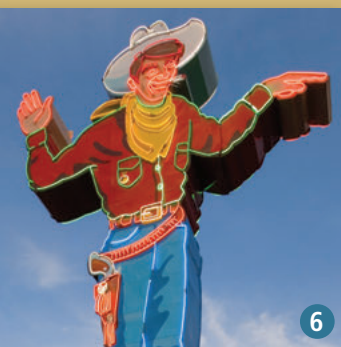

4 HOOVER DAM—Since its dedication in 1935, this hydroelectric power producer has been one of Nevada's most photographed and visited landmarks. The new Mike O'Callaghan-Pat Tillman Memorial Bridge offers spectacular views previously only seen via helicopter. Regular tours explore the dam inside and out.

5 GREAT BASIN NATIONAL PARK—Scenic photos are often ruined when bystanders unwittingly step into the frame. Luckily for shutterbugs, Great Basin National Park's remote location equates to a lack of crowds, so it feels as though you have the entire wilderness to yourself. The whole park looks amazing through a lens, and the Wheeler Peak Scenic Drive boasts breathtaking views of Nevada's second-highest mountain.

6 WENDOVER WILL—It is hard to miss the bright lights of West Wendover when traveling Interstate 80 in northeastern Nevada, but in case you do, a friendly 63-foot-tall neon cowboy is waiting to show you the way. Wendover Will watches over the town and welcomes visitors to Nevada's last hurrah before crossing into Utah.

7 RHYOLITE—Ghost towns are about as common in Nevada as sagebrush, and their decaying buildings provide excellent photo opportunities. Rhyolite's combination of expansive ruins and easy access—it's only four miles from Beatty—make it a great place for a Nevada ghost town photo safari. Highlights include the Bottle House, built out of empty beer bottles, the two-story school, the three-story Cook Bank Building, and the Las Vegas and Tonopah Railroad Depot.

8 GENOA—One of Nevada's oldest towns also happens to be one of its most photogenic. Nestled at the foot of the towering Carson Range in Carson Valley, Genoa's charmingly languid pace provides the peace and quiet to compose the perfect shot. Start by capturing a piece of history at "Nevada's oldest thirst parlor," the Genoa Bar, which has been pouring drinks since 1853.

9 VIRGINIA CITY—Virginia City is a photographer's dream, with historical sites and costumed locals around every corner. Bring plenty of memory cards, because the Comstock offers an abundance of must-shoot sites. They include St. Mary's in the Mountains Catholic church, the Mackay and Chollar mansions, Storey County Courthouse, Piper's Opera House, Historic Fourth Ward School, and historic C Street.

10 VALLEY OF FIRE STATE PARK—This state park is no stranger to the camera. In addition to countless appearances in the photo albums and galleries of amateur and professional photographers, Valley of Fire's otherworldly sandstone formations have graced the big screen in films such as "The Professionals," "Total Recall," "Star Trek Generations," and "Transformers." Some of the park's most photogenic spots include Rainbow Vista, White Domes, Elephant Rock, and petroglyphs at Atlatl Rock and along the trail to Mouse's Tank.

11 WARD CHARCOAL OVENS STATE HISTORIC PARK—Following the 1870s silver discovery in the Egan Range south of Ely, the town of Ward sprang up to support the mines. Though most of its buildings and all of its 1,500 residents have long since vacated, six well-preserved charcoal ovens remain and are photography darlings today. These cones even graced the cover of the September/October 2009 issue of Nevada Magazine.

12 BLACK ROCK DESERT—Most of the places on this list made the cut because of the wealth of subjects they offer photographers. What makes this corner of northwestern Nevada so photogenic is its absence of subjects. One of the largest flat expanses on earth, the desert provides a whole new perspective on Nevada's big skies, horizon lines, and even tire tracks.

13 CATHEDRAL GORGE STATE PARK—Miller Point, overlooking Cathedral Gorge, offers sweeping views and is a superb vantage from which to photograph the park. But for a truly exceptional experience, intrepid photographers should venture into the chasm's depths. Squeezing through narrow, winding slot canyons in Cathedral Gorge reveals a formerly underground world of dramatic light and mind-blowing formations. Just be ready for a little dust.

14 LAUGHLIN—A dinner cruise along the sparkling Colorado River is one of the state's hidden gems. The vibrantly colored resorts of the city's mini-Strip reflect off the river in a surreal dance of light, and provide steady-handed photographers with countless options to capture the watery echoes of neon.

15 LAMOILLE—This quaint ranching town in the shadow of one of the state's most impressive mountain ranges is the quintessential Nevada hideaway. The Ruby Mountains, "Nevada's Alps," provide a perfect backdrop to century-old farms and the photogenic 1905 Little Church of the Crossroads, an active Presbyterian Church whose steeple practically begs you to snap its picture.

2013 WHAT'S NEW?

The Smith Center

DISCOVERY Children's Museum

Interstate 580 and Galena Creek Bridge

Gordon Ramsay Steak, beef Wellington

Nobu Restaurant

The D Las Vegas

■ The Neon Museum in Las Vegas opened to the public in late 2012 and is home to more than 150 neon signs dating as far back as the 1930s. Its neon signage collection is the largest in the world and features relics from the Moulin Rouge, Desert Inn, the Flamingo, and Stardust. neonmuseum.org

■ The Smith Center for the Performing Arts is the centerpiece of cultural life in downtown Las Vegas, offering a blend of performances by resident companies as well as first-run touring attractions. The five-acre cultural campus features three performance spaces, and the revamped DISCOVERY Children's Museum will call the campus home later this year. thesmithcenter.com

■ Traveling from Reno to Carson City is faster on the new, 8.5-mile Interstate 580 freeway, which includes the Galena Creek Bridge—at 1,722 feet, the longest concrete cathedral arch bridge in the world.

■ The McCarran International Airport in Las Vegas opened Terminal 3, a 1.9 million-square-foot facility featuring 14 new gates serving international and domestic travelers coming into southern Nevada. mccarran.com

■ The big news for skiers and boarders continues to be the merger of Squaw Valley and Alpine Meadows resorts. Together they offer access to 6,000 acres, 43 lifts, and 270+ trails, not to mention Tahoe's only mile-long terrain park.

■ Caesars Entertainment announced plans to rename and renovate Imperial Palace Las Vegas. The revamped property, The Quad Resort & Casino, is scheduled for completion late this year. thequadlv.com

■ Gordon Ramsay Steak, the celebrity chef's restaurant chain, opened its first southern Nevada restaurant in mid-2012 inside Paris Las Vegas. The world-renowned eatery features fresh seafood and mouth-watering cuts of beef, French-influenced sides, and delicious desserts. parislavegas.com

■ SkyVue Las Vegas is a new retail, entertainment, and restaurant complex on the Strip. Upon completion, it is set to feature a roller coaster and a 467-foot observation wheel akin to the London Eye—the best view in the city. Opens mid-2013 skyvueLasvegas.com

■ MGM Resorts announced that THEhotel at Mandalay Bay will be transformed into the all-suite Delano Las Vegas, with a projected completion date of late 2013.

■ Caesars Palace and Nobu Hospitality plan to open the boutique-style Nobu Hotel, Restaurant, and Lounge at Caesars Palace. The 180-room hotel and spacious restaurant and lounge will occupy the Centurion Tower following a multi-million-dollar refurbishment and are slated to open February 4.

■ The D Las Vegas is a modern, new hotel with a vintage feel (formerly Fitzgeralds Casino) on Fremont Street. It sits under the largest video screen in the world on Las Vegas' famous Fremont Street Experience. thed.com

Cowboy Culture

You know it when you see it: a cowhand clad in leather, denim, and the dust of the range. You smell it: sagebrush, hay, and oil to keep the leather from cracking. You taste it: sizzling steak topped with grilled onions and paired with a heaping side of baked beans. You hear it: the clink of spurs, the lowing of cattle.

Most of all, you remember it: cowboy culture, the most authentic, raw, unadulterated element of American life.

When we talk about cowboys in Nevada, it's about the men and women who ride horses and rope cows. They wear boots and hats because they're useful to the work, not to make a statement—although they could tell you the difference between round-toe and square-toe boots, and the real definition of a “buckaroo.” Horses are modes of transportation and members of the family. We take great pride in our ropin’ and ridin’ skills, and aren’t afraid to grab a guitar and pick a melody.

This is the lifestyle that created the art form known as cowboy poetry, and it's what's celebrated every January in Elko during the National Cowboy Poetry Gathering. These poets can spin a yarn that will make your sides ache from laughter and your eyes shed tears you didn't know you had.

Guest ranches are the perfect places to get a taste for the country way of life, but don't expect to be wined and dined; if you're a guest on a working ranch, you can expect to work. You may help wrangle the cows or feed the horses, and you'll earn that chuck wagon dinner at the end of the day.

The Reno Rodeo Cattle Drive is another opportunity for those with an interest in living the cowboy life. Every June in the week leading up to the event, the rodeo cattle are herded into Reno by pro and novice cowpokes. Your reservation buys you a seat in a saddle, a spot around the nightly campfire, trailside dinner, and an unforgettable experience in the American West.

Rodeos are a big part of cowboy culture, and Nevada does them right. The Reno Rodeo is known as the wildest, richest rodeo in the West, and the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas is where the best of the best prove their stuff in the arena.

“I’ve spent most of my life working on ranches in northeastern Nevada and am grateful to have done so. I love this country and how it changes with four distinct seasons and the rugged beauty that comes with each. I very much appreciate the people here and the Western culture we share, which is tied to the work and the land. The ‘Cowboy code’ that some folks are trying to get back to is very much alive and well here.”

JON GRIGGS, RANCH MANAGER,
MAGGIE CREEK RANCH NEAR ELKO

The Winnemucca Ranch Hand Rodeo is about as authentic as it gets, with working cowboys and cowgirls putting their daily chores on display in a test of skill.

A visiting cowboy or cowgirl will find an endless variety of gear and accessories to fit right in on the range. Silver and turquoise—mined right here in Nevada—are staples in every boutique and gift shop.

If you feel inclined to really step back in time, there’s no place like Virginia City. The main street is lined with wooden sidewalks, saloons, and gambling halls. You can take a teeth-rattling ride in a stagecoach or climb aboard a vintage steam train. Capture the moment in sepia with your loved ones dressed up as gamblers, cowboys, saloon girls, or miners. On a warm summer day, you may just witness a bank robbery and ensuing shoot-out, but don’t worry, the sheriff always wins.

Nevadans are proud of their western heritage, and of the great outdoors that lends itself to this ranching, roping way of life. We’re inclined to believe that “purple mountain majesties” was inspired by our snowy peaks.

It’s not uncommon to see a tumbleweed blow down main street in many Nevada towns, and there’s no smell like a sea of sagebrush after a summer rain. The open range means that you might have to wait for cows to cross the highway as they graze their way around the Silver State. Those cows might just be the only living creatures you see until you roll into the nearest town, thirsty for a cold beer and hot meal.

Go ahead and dust off your cowboy hat, and pull on your favorite pair of Levi’s. Life is about comfort here, and we think you’ll fit right in.

Ghost Towns

Candelaria

Tumbleweeds roll down dusty roads and cautious lizards scale wooden and stone ruins. You can almost hear the creaking of a long-empty rocking chair keeping time with the passage of years. It doesn't take much imagination to hear a harmonica melody in the breeze, greeting you at the wooden porches of miners' cabins laden with iron and leather tools.

Every boom ends with a bust, and these are the scenes of Nevada's once-great mining towns, now preserved in the arid desert, in a state of arrested decay.

BOBBIE GREEN

RHYOLITE

One of the most photographed ghost towns in the West, Rhyolite stands guard near Death Valley's eastern entrance, ushering visitors through the passage of time, space, and terrain. The mission-style railroad depot gives the town an almost modern look when compared to the stone ruins of a bank, store, and schoolhouse. The famed Bottle House, constructed of nearly 50,000 bottles, has been restored and hints at an eccentric past of the "Wild West."

That ribbon of oddity extends to the town limits, which is lined with larger-than-life sculptures, art created in and inspired by the extreme desert climate. Rhyolite's brief life—1905 to roughly 1920—was extinguished as quickly as the wind blows across the sandstone hills. But like many great heroes, its fame came after death, and now the ghost town is visited by travelers from all over the world, seeking inspiration in the ruins.

BERLIN

Berlin is a ghost town tied by the terrain to its closest neighbor, an ichthyosaur fossil site known as Berlin-Ichthyosaur State Park. The town, adjacent mine, and dinosaur remains are a motley representation of Nevada's varied history. Located near the center of Nevada, the fossils tell a tale of life under the sea, of reptilian beasts that swam over what was then the ocean's floor and is now mountain peaks.

Fast-forward hundreds of millennia, and the wooden cabins and towering mill tell a tale of gold strikes, explorers, and newfound riches in the American West. Metal tools scattered throughout the landscape reveal the work that it took to build this mining town in 1896, and then abandon it in 1911 when the gold dried up.

Travelers now can visit for the day or camp among the sagebrush and juniper trees. The green sage and brilliant blue sky present a startling contrast to the varnish of wooden structures, creating a photographer's dream composition of light and dark.

BELMONT

A silver strike in 1865 led to the founding of Belmont and its establishment as the Nye County seat. As quickly as the honor was bestowed, it was taken away and moved to the more lucrative town of Tonopah. But Belmont got to keep its towering courthouse, a site well worth the two-hour detour south from U.S. Highway 50. Historical graffiti marks the decades that have passed and gives a glimpse into the visitors—both welcome and unwelcome—that have entered its domain. An eerie autograph is etched into a doorframe, believed to have been left by Charles Manson in 1969 while he and his “family” hid in the deteriorating courthouse.

Now preserved as a State Historic Park, the courthouse stands sentinel over the nearly deserted town of Belmont, its ruins crumbling down the hillsides and hidden in the high desert of Nevada.

ST. THOMAS

Few ghost towns can claim a rebirth, but as the water has receded at Lake Mead, the town of St. Thomas has once again seen the light of day. The town seemed short-lived from the start, founded as a Mormon outpost to transport goods to Utah during the Civil War. The arrival of railroads made the town obsolete. When state lines were drawn, the residents of St. Thomas discovered that their hamlet was actually in Nevada, not Utah, and they owed their home state back taxes. Residents unable to pay the taxes opted to leave, marking the first abandonment.

Settlers returned to St. Thomas in the last decade of the 1800s and lived in relative peace until a bypass bridge diverted travelers and the copper mined nearby plummeted in value. The final blow came with the construction of Hoover Dam, when the backed-up waters of the Colorado River created Lake Mead. St. Thomas was abandoned as the lake formed and flowed into its streets and over its buildings and homes.

Drought has forced the shoreline back, and the ruins of St. Thomas are now accessible via a short hike. Perhaps the ghosts weren't ready to let go of this town that struggled from birth.

Nevada is dotted with ghost towns, each settlement telling the story of the miners, railroad workers, explorers, and settlers who answered the call to "go west, young man." You may see the signs of their struggles and triumphs as you, too, go west.

"I enjoy exploring Nevada's ghost towns and mining camps—there are over 600—many of which little remains but a few concrete slabs and crumbling rock walls. A few are still inhabited and classified as "living ghost towns." As the ore veins played out, and because of the scarcity of wood, many of the mining camps and town sites were dismantled and moved to the next discovery, leaving behind in some cases no, or very little, visible remaining site markings."

Nevada Northern Railway, Ely

Railroads

All aboard! Nevada's rich railroad heritage is well preserved, and lives on today. Explore railroad museums in Boulder City, Carson City, and Ely. With real operating passenger runs, they are a delight for all ages. Home to an extraordinary collection of railroad equipment, artifacts, and related exhibits, these museums take you on a trip back in time.

See and feel how the railroad transformed the growing nation in the late 19th and early-20th centuries. Nevada's fabled railroads and locomotives built boomtowns overnight, and helped tame the Wild West.

Wonderful to photograph, the railroad cars and locomotives on display at the museums have rich and colorful histories.

Nevada State Railroad Museum, Boulder City

Virginia & Truckee Railway, Carson City, by Thomas Gray

The Nevada Northern Railway in Ely offers visitors rides along the same historic routes that were built in 1905 to haul ore from nearby mines. Walk through the East Ely Depot Museum, restored to its 1907 appearance, and see original waiting rooms, baggage storage, and offices used by one of the nation's most important railroads.

Ride the rails behind the 1905 Baldwin Steam Locomotive No. 25 at the Nevada State Railroad Museum in Carson City. Catch the McKeen Car, a national historic landmark and perfectly restored example of a rare self-propelled vehicle that used internal combustion. Just try to resist the whistle call of The Inyo, a majestic 1875 steam locomotive, on a special-occasion run.

Tour from Carson City to Virginia City via the 1870s-era Virginia & Truckee Railway, dubbed the Queen of the Short Lines, with two train excursions throughout the summer months. The Historic Route is a short ride from Virginia City to Gold Hill's original V&T depot. Spend 35 minutes on the four-mile trip that departs eight times a day in the summer season and seven in October. Hear the conductor tell the story of the Comstock Lode's mining boom, when Virginia City became one of the richest cities on earth. See mine tailings and railroad equipment and pass through Tunnel No. 4 along the way.

The railway's newest route, from Carson City to Virginia City, is Sisters in History. It's an hour and a half each way in cars pulled by steam or diesel-powered locomotives. See mines and wild mustangs on the 28-mile round-trip.

Relive the early days of the Hover Dam in Boulder City on the Union Pacific Boulder Branch line, commissioned in 1931 and photograph the superb scenery. Hop aboard an excursion train outside Las Vegas for a trip along the tracks of southern Nevada's colorful past in refurbished and air-conditioned Pullman coaches dating to 1911. Check out Union Pacific Railroad No. 2314, an official Railway Post Office car that once carried postal employees and mail across the country.

Take to the tracks on any of the special event trains along with ghosts and western outlaws, Santa and Thomas the Tank Engine, or catch the Polar Express and Oktoberfest.

In every shape and form, Nevada's historic railroad pieces animate the Wild West for 21st century generations. Welcome aboard.

"Rail history in Nevada is up close and personal, from riding behind or even operating a century-old steam locomotive, to watching the latest trains thunder by on the original transcontinental railroad. The people and the dreams that made Nevada great are still out there, waiting for you to discover them."

Arts and Culture

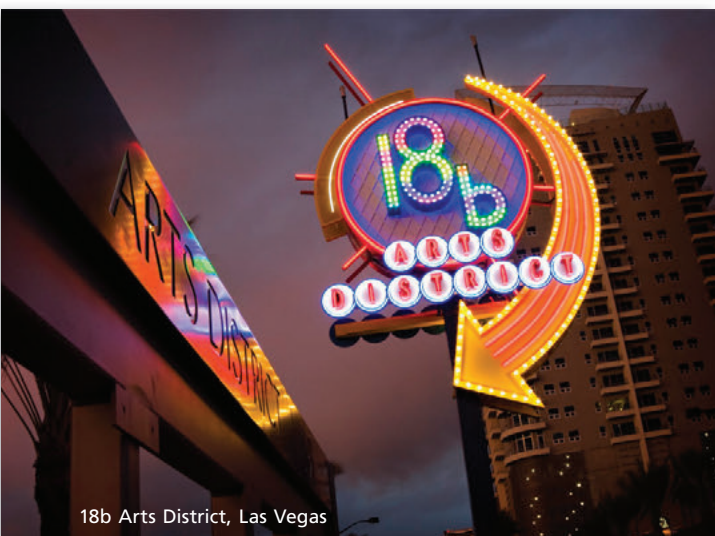

From folklife and festivals to inspiring spaces in far off places, Nevada shines with artists, exhibits, and experiences uniquely its own. Shakespeare and yoga on Lake Tahoe complement cowboy poetry, county fairs, and Chautauqua across the state.

SOUTHERN EXPOSURE

Southern Nevada has many cultural gems, with the newest being The Smith Center for the Performing Arts in Las Vegas. There you will enjoy the best and brightest in artistic excellence, performance, and education on an international scale. The center itself is architecturally stunning and hosts world-class performances, touring Broadway shows, and more.

One of southern Nevada's top cultural and educational attractions, Springs Preserve, offers visitors the opportunity to explore the valley's vibrant history through interactive science and nature exhibits, botanical gardens, an interpretive trail system that meanders through a scenic wetland habitat, and live animal shows. The Nevada State Museum, Las Vegas, is located at Springs Preserve, so grab your camera and head there next. Highlights include the first dinosaur fossils documented in Nevada, Benjamin "Bugsy" Siegel's 1946 Flamingo stock certificate, mineral specimens from Nevada mines, preserved Nevada wildlife, and Las Vegas showgirl costumes.

Just one hour northeast of Las Vegas is Overton, home to the Lost City Museum, which was specifically built by the National Park Service in 1935 to exhibit and protect artifacts that were excavated from Pueblo Grande de Nevada. These Anasazi Indian sites were being threatened by the rising waters of Lake Mead as it backed up behind the newly built Hoover Dam.

RURAL BLISS

You'll see the stars in a whole new light under the rural Nevada sky. Savor the winter chill in Ely at the annual White Pine Fire and Ice Show as fireworks explode above a frozen lake and snow sculptures emerge from artists' hands.

Take a class at the acclaimed Tuscarora Pottery School, nestled in the 1870s mining town of Tuscarora and home to a dozen superb artists.

Venture to Winnemucca's Martin Hotel, one of Nevada's best Basque restaurants and home to the Great Basin Arts and Entertainment group. Established in 1898 and listed on the National Register of Historic Places, the hotel's dining rooms served passengers and commercial traffic from the Southern Pacific Railroad. Once a favorite place for area cattle and sheep workers to stay on their trips to town, it is still a favorite for travelers. Take in the familiar veranda, hitching posts, and an amazing variety of pressed tin walls and ceilings. Experience live acoustic music by great acts in a wonderful setting.

If photography is your forte, check out Shooting the West, where you'll meet photographers of all types gathered for the annual photo symposium celebrating its 25th year in Winnemucca in 2013. Stop in for workshops, shows, and contests that draw the best in the business each spring.

Sample the offerings at Oats Park Art Center in Fallon, where variety is the spice of life. Lovingly restored with $10 million raised by the Churchill Arts Council, the historic site offers authentic western charm and some of the finest performances from global artists. Live music, vintage films, fantastic galleries, and readings draw audiences again and again.

WESTERN HERITAGE

Make time for the capital city’s creative side, where Carson City galleries are blossoming. Start with the Nevada Arts Council’s Office Exhibition Series, a space for the West’s superbly talented artists to publicly display their work. Explore the Capital City Arts Initiative Court House Gallery, Jeff Nicholson’s Great Basin Gallery or Western Nevada College. Shop the Nevada Artists Association’s Artists Store at the Brewery Arts Center or Artsy Fartsy for some fresh designs. Take a peek into the Nevada State Museum on the site of the former U.S. Mint, where you’ll experience mining and railroad history that changed the United States as Nevada joined the Union in 1864. Jump to the 20th century and see the evolution of slot machines that made Nevada famous for fun and so much more.

Food and Drink

We take dining in Nevada seriously.

We always start our Basque meals with a Picon Punch, and wouldn't dream of ordering anything other than locally raised beef when visiting a restaurant in Fallon. There's even proper protocol when dining at a buffet—start with a salad to appear healthy (even if it contains Jell-O and marshmallows), and then move on to a mountain of crab legs and shrimp. It's okay to mix your international cuisines at a buffet, but never put the sushi next to the lasagna. That just gets messy.

To make it easy for you, we've compiled a cheat-sheet for eating and drinking in Nevada. These are just suggestions, so feel free to test your palate and make up your own rules, too!

Villa Basque Deli, Carson City

BASQUE FOOD

Traditional Basque restaurants dot the Nevada culinary landscape and are concentrated more heavily in the northern end of the state. Elko, Winnemucca, Fallon, Gardnerville, and Reno boast the more well-known Basque eateries, including the Star Hotel, Martin Hotel, Overland, JT Basque Bar & Dining Room, and Louis' Basque Corner.

A Basque meal usually is served family style, so make friends with your neighbors or they won't pass the salad or beans your way. The fare may vary, depending on whether the restaurant leans more Spanish-Basque or French-Basque, but you can be sure there will be at least five courses leading up to your main dish.

Speaking of the main dish, this is where you get to see what Basque food is really about. Lamb and oxtail are staples on any menu, and if you order steak, remember that "Basque style" comes with a heaping of roasted garlic on top! Don't be afraid to try something new, though it's probably best not to ask what anything is. Sweetbreads taste better if you don't ask.

CELEBRITY CHEFS

First rule for dining among the likes of Guy Savoy, Carla Pellegrino, and Wolfgang Puck: Say that everything on the menu looks delicious. Second rule: Taste everything.

Las Vegas is gastro-bliss central, boasting 44 eateries with celebrity chefs at the helm. Kick it up a notch at Emeril's Table 10 or throw down a tamale at Bobby Flay's Mesa Grill. Chef Christina Wilson ascended from "Hell's Kitchen" to take the throne at Gordon Ramsay Steak, the newest celebrity kitchen on the Las Vegas Strip.

If your travels take you northward, don't miss Charlie Palmer Steak at the Grand Sierra Resort in Reno. Here's an insider's tip: Make time while in Reno to dine at CAMPO, the second area restaurant by Chef Mark Estee, who quickly is making a name in the farm-to-table movement for his locally sourced menus. You are likely to hear more about him as his star rises, and you can say you dined at his restaurant here first!

"Las Vegas is such a vibrant, amazing city. And Paris is a very successful and beautiful resort in the heart of the Las Vegas Strip. What you don't realize about Las Vegas until you get there is it has so much to offer, not just casinos. It's about the sights, the restaurants, the theater shows. There is something for everyone!"

DESERT GRAPES

Nevada is leading a revolution in winemaking, developing desert-hardy grapes that use a fraction of the water that traditional crops consume. That is reason enough to be interested in Nevada's four wineries, and the bonus is they produce delicious wines.

Pahrump Valley Winery and Sanders Family Winery represent the oldest and newest wineries in the state. Pahrump Valley was established in 1990 and grows primarily red varietals, including zinfandel, syrah, merlot, and barbera. Sanders Family is planted with zinfandel and petite syrah and imports a gamut of red and white grapes to produce award-winning wines only an hour from Las Vegas.

Tahoe Ridge in the northern part of the state (45 minutes from Reno) started as a research vineyard in 1990 and spent a decade perfecting the art of desert wine before going public and producing the first commercial wine in Nevada and becoming the first full-production winery in the state.

Also anchored in northern Nevada is Churchill Vineyards, which lays claim to the only estate produced white wines in Nevada. It bottles small-production whites, reds, and distilled spirits.

Are you thirsty yet? Ready to make restaurant reservations? Be sure to check TravelNevada.com for more information on dining in the Silver State.

Golf

It's tee time in Nevada. The state offers miles of fairways, some on desert courses, others in mountainous terrain, but always with unique Nevada twists.

You'll golf better here. It has been claimed that, at the higher elevations in northern Nevada (Reno is 4,500 feet above sea level), golf balls fly 10 percent farther.

You'll golf all the time here. With 250 days of sunshine, almost every day is perfect for a round of golf.

You'll golf everywhere here. Courses can be found all over the state, from lush resort links like the exclusive Wynn Course in Las Vegas to smaller municipal favorites like the donations-accepted nine-hole course in Pioche.

With more than 100 courses, Nevada is a great place to swing the clubs, whether you're teeing off in Las Vegas or Mesquite in the southern end of the state, or at one of the "Divine 9" courses in the north.

"The best part about playing golf in Nevada is the variety. From beautiful lakeside courses in the Sierra Nevada, to high desert golf in the Reno/Carson City area and championship golf in southern Nevada and Mesquite, Nevada offers what golfers desire. Memorable golf courses and nightlife make Nevada a special place for golfers."

BRYAN DAVIS, EDGEWOOD TAHOE

Paiute Golf Club Resort

SOUTHERN SWING

Start your golf tour in Las Vegas, where you have your choice of nearly 50 courses. Among those is the Las Vegas Paiute Golf Resort, owned by the Las Vegas Paiute Tribe and home to the Wolf Course, the state's longest at 7,604 yards. There's also the Royal Links Golf Club, with holes inspired by 11 different British Open rotation courses, and the Tom Fazio-designed Shadow Creek, home of the Michael Jordan Celebrity Invitational.

Remember that Las Vegas is in the Mojave Desert, and here you'll find many desert courses—links where the fairways are green and narrow with a more natural rough. Sometimes you'll be shooting over arroyos and across fairways, so no wild slices or hooks!

About 80 miles northeast of Las Vegas, on the Nevada-Utah border, is Mesquite—a town of around 15,500 people and nine golf courses. You can stay in Mesquite for week and play a different course every day. Not only does that make it a popular golf destination, it's also the host of many national golf events, including the Mesquite Amateur and RE/MAX World Long Drive Championship.

ArrowCreek

NORTHERN SLICE

Travel north to the Carson City-Carson Valley area—just south of Reno—to take on the Divine 9, a group of courses nestled on the eastern side of the Sierra Nevada. Plush greens, rolling fairways, and scenic mountain views are the hallmark of these beauties, which together offer 70,000-plus yards of layouts by top designers.

Don't pack away the irons yet—you'll want to check out the greens in nearby Lake Tahoe and Reno. Breathtaking lake views can be enjoyed from such courses as Edgewood Tahoe, host of the popular American Century Celebrity Golf Championship, and the Golf Courses at Incline Village, where the view from the Championship Course seventh tee is definitely camera-worthy. Among the Reno courses is the private Montréux Golf & Country Club, host to the Reno-Tahoe Open, a PGA Tour summer event.

Swing away—it's tee time.

Ruby Mountains

Winter Wonderland

Take a deep breath.

That cold, crisp air lets you know you're in for a challenge. The rush of adrenaline that follows is your second hint: You're about to embark on an adventure in Nevada's winter wonderland.

With annual snowfall of up to 400 inches in the Sierra Nevada, as well as plenty of coverage throughout the state, Nevada offers winter playgrounds for skiing, snowshoeing, ice fishing, and more.

Cross-country skiing, by North Lake Tahoe/Jeff Dow

TAHOE TERRAIN

Lake Tahoe, nestled in the Sierra Nevada along the Nevada-California border, is home to several world-class ski resorts that offer trails and terrain parks for all levels. On bluebird days—and there's an abundance of those—the breathtaking views of Lake Tahoe will stop you in your tracks. That's if you stop: the groomed slopes, challenging moguls, and thrilling terrain parks at Heavenly Mountain, Mt. Rose-Ski Tahoe, and Diamond Peak Ski Resort will keep you moving.

About an hour's drive from Reno and easily accessible from the Reno-Tahoe International Airport, the Lake Tahoe region also draws visitors for cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, sledding, and snowmobiling. At the day's end, you'll have your choice of activities to help you unwind, whether it's a raucous après-ski party or a relaxing spa treatment at one of the area's casino-resorts.

For these reasons and more, Lake Tahoe is a premier winter sports destination. But don't count out the rest of the state.

THERE'S SNOW IN VEGAS?

Las Vegas Ski & Snowboard Resort, about an hour's drive from Las Vegas and just north of Mount Charleston, is one of the region's often-overlooked gems. With 40 acres, the resort is small by industry standards, but is pursuing an ambitious 10-year expansion plan. Recent changes include a new quad chairlift and 14 new trails. If skiing isn't your activity, head to a snow play area in the nearby Spring Mountains National Recreation Area, part of the Humboldt-Toiyabe National Forest, for sledding, a snowball fight, or to build a snowman.

Helicopter-skiing near Elko

HEAD TO THE HINTERLANDS

Snow also falls in abundance on the eastern side of the state, where you can enjoy helicopter-skiing and ice fishing, among other winter activities, in a rural setting.

The Ruby Mountains near Elko are where thrill-seekers on helicopter-ski adventures get dropped into forested terrain, wide-open bowls, and tight couloirs. If you're the type to carry a fishing rod instead of a ski pole, ice fishing is popular at many eastern Nevada waterways, including Cave Lake State Park near Ely and the South Fork State Recreation Area on the Humboldt River.

If you're looking for more traditional winter recreation, you'll also find it in eastern Nevada. Hit the slopes at SnoBowl Ski Area near Elko or strap on snowshoes for a hike at Ward Mountain Recreation Area near Ely.

So remember, winter isn't for staying indoors. It's for snowball fights with the kids, skiing with friends, and snowshoeing through a forest transformed by snow into a crystalline wonderland. This season, savor the beauty of Nevada in winter.

"Nevada ski resorts are unique because of the contrast of topography from west to east. You get the beautiful lake and alpine view to the west and the broad desert landscape to the east, which is probably something you don't see anywhere else, along with a 'top of the world' view."

Outdoor Recreation

Dirt roads, snow-covered mountains, hidden lakes, and aspen groves as far as the eye can see. Mountain bike tracks in the mud, skinny-dipping in hot springs, fingers gripping a rock face, and skis a foot deep in fluffy snow. Nevada is more than 300 mountain ranges divided by seas of sagebrush and wildflowers. It's 48 million acres of public land, 24 state parks, and one national park. It's countless adventures waiting for you.

STATE PARKS AND NATURAL WONDERS

Nevada's state parks are spread throughout the state, easily accessible from nearby towns and highways. Some are tributes to the settlement of the West, such as Fort Churchill, Belmont Courthouse, Berlin, and Old Las Vegas Mormon Fort, parks that preserve the remains of settlements that gave Nevada its start.

Other parks reveal the natural evolution of Nevada's landscape. Cathedral Gorge is a stunning example of beauty carved by a millennia of erosion. Valley of Fire arises from the desert outside of Las Vegas with brilliant colors matched only by an artist's palette. Lake Tahoe Nevada State Park is a world-renowned playground for hikers, mountain bikers, backpackers, swimmers, and boaters. In the winter, when it's covered with a pristine blanket of snow, it calls to skiers and snowshoers.

A few state parks capture Nevada's oddities, such as Berlin-Ichthyosaur State Park, which uniquely pairs a ghost town with an adjacent ichthyosaur fossil site. The Ward Charcoal Ovens State Historic Park has immense beehive-shaped ovens abandoned more than a century ago by silver miners.

Outdoor adventurers are drawn to Lamoille Canyon and the Ruby Mountains all year long. The glacier-carved canyon and craggy mountain range provide rugged terrain for outdoor enthusiasts. The vast variety of wildlife—including the elusive Himalayan Snowcock, which nests in the highest reaches of the Ruby Mountains—makes this a perfect place to for birdwatchers, hunters, and anyone who appreciates the beauty of wild horses galloping through the sagebrush.

ACTION AND ADVENTURE

A well-planned series of trails around Austin on Highway 50 lure mountain bikers from all over the world, while the 240-mile, mixed-use Silver State Trail is well known for its challenging ATV excursions. The Tahoe Rim Trail in the northwestern end of the state is a 160-mile network of trails that circle Lake Tahoe.

Lake Tahoe is also a prime place for fishing. Bait your line for trout or salmon, or set some traps for crayfish, which are abundant along the shoreline and in the depths of the lake. Anglers can test their best flies in the Truckee River or Pyramid Lake, both of which are known to be among the best fly fishing locations in the west.

Skiers and snowboarders already know that the 18 ski resorts in the Lake Tahoe region provide some of the highest quality, most challenging downhill and cross-country terrain in North America. Visitors have their pick of large village-style resorts with their own shopping, dining, and accommodations or smaller resorts that focus on some serious slopes and Mother Nature's gift of fresh powder and near-daily sunshine throughout the ski season.

This is what Nevada's outdoors are made of, and what vacations beyond the city lights can offer.

“Why do I love Nevada? Every time I go out into the desert, I discover something new, something I have never heard about or seen before. Historic maps give names to ruins of ghost towns, Native traditions give meaning to ancient sites, and geology gives reason to abandoned mining camps.”

Nevada Itineraries

SOUTHERN NEVADA—FOUR DAYS, 564 MILES/908 KM

Day 1

Distance: 160 miles/258 km

Rev your engines in Las Vegas, and take off for the open road via Interstate 15 North. Your first stop is Valley of Fire State Park, only an hour from Sin City, yet it feels like another world. Moviemakers think so too, and that's why this valley of red and orange sandstone was featured in such movies as "Star Trek: Generations" and "Transformers." Plan to spend at least three hours here before hitting the road again, this time backtracking slightly on I-15 South and then turning north on U.S. Highway 93.

This area is dotted with hot springs, and one of our favorites is Ash Springs, located on the east side of the U.S. Highway 93 near the town of the same name. Ask a local where to turn, because there are no road signs to reveal this hidden gem.

Your stop for the night will be in the town of Alamo. Luxury accommodations can be found at A Cowboy's Dream Bed and Breakfast. Just up the road is Windmill Ridge, which boasts 15 western-themed cabins behind a family-run restaurant, and is very affordable.

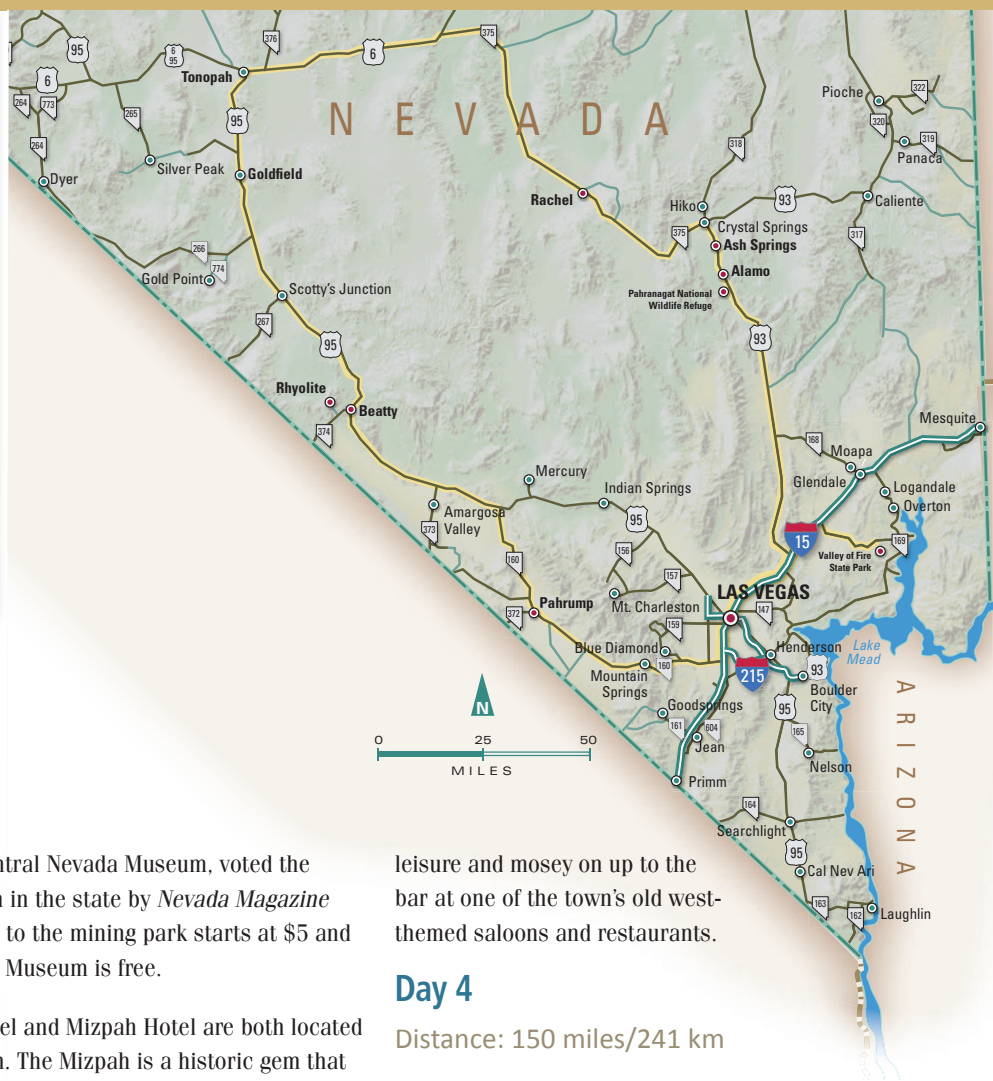

Day 2

Distance: 160 miles/258 km

Spend the morning exploring to arrive at your next stop, Rachel, around lunchtime to enjoy the famous Alien Burger at the Little A'Le'Inn. Rachel is on the Extraterrestrial Highway and is the center of many reported otherworldly encounters. You may see a spaceship hovering over the famed "Black Mailbox," which marks the access road to infamous Area 51. If you arrive too early for lunch, the Little A'Le'Inn offers a variety of dishes and refreshments, served with a heaping side of extraterrestrial lore. To get here from Alamo, you'll head north on Highway 93 and west on State Route 375, traveling about one hour.

Your next stop is Tonopah, about two hours northwest on State Route 375 and U.S. Highway 6/95. Keep watch overhead because you may just see some military air maneuvers as you skirt the Nellis Air Force Range to the south.

Tonopah was once called the "Queen of the Silver Camps," and your first stop should be the Tonopah Historic Mining Park. This outdoor mining museum is on the site of the original silver mine and a great introduction into Nevada's mining history. Another must-see is the Central Nevada Museum, voted the Best Rural Museum in the state by Nevada Magazine readers. Admission to the mining park starts at $5 and the Central Nevada Museum is free.

The Jim Butler Motel and Mizpah Hotel are both located in the heart of town. The Mizpah is a historic gem that was renovated and reopened in 2011, and like many great Nevada landmarks, is rumored to be haunted.

Day 3

Distance: 94 miles/151 km
and any extra exploring you decide to do

Head south on Highway 95 toward Las Vegas, but don't worry, your adventure is far from over. Take your time driving through Goldfield, about 30 minutes south of Tonopah, and stop at the Goldfield High School, where the famed Nelson-Gans boxing match of 1906 took place. This changed the face of boxing in the West and put the then-booming town of Goldfield on the map.

Your next stop is only an hour away in Beatty, your base camp for the next 24 hours. Beatty is the eastern gateway to Death Valley; from here you can access such iconic sites as Zabriskie Point, Badwater, Devil's Golf Course, and Artist's Drive. Return to Beatty at your leisure and mosey on up to the bar at one of the town's old west-themed saloons and restaurants.

Day 4

Distance: 150 miles/241 km

On your way out of town, take the short detour to Rhyolite, one of the most photographed ghost towns in the West and well worth the 10-minute drive from Beatty.

Continue south on Highways 95 and 160 for about an hour to Pahrump. This bustling bedroom community to Las Vegas is home to two of Nevada's four wineries. We recommend staying long enough for lunch and wine tasting before continuing on to Las Vegas.

You've come a long way, and now it's time to end your trek in Las Vegas. But the fun doesn't have to stop: you are in the Entertainment Capital of the World, after all!

Laughlin

Mike O'Callaghan—Pat Tillman Memorial Bridge

Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area

BASE CAMP: LAS VEGAS—FOUR DAYS OF DAY TRIPS

Day 1

Choose a comfy hotel, because this is base camp for the next several days of adventure excursions.

Distance: 23 miles/37 km

RED ROCK CANYON: Just a short drive from Las Vegas via State Route 159 is Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area, a popular hiking and rock climbing destination. There are several trailheads along the 13-mile scenic loop drive, so be prepared with water and sunscreen if you decide to take a hike.

Distance: 6 miles/10 km

BONNIE SPRINGS RANCH: For a taste of the rootin' tootin' West, head six miles south of Red Rock Canyon to Bonnie Springs Ranch. This family-friendly destination offers horseback rides, a zoo, a replica of a circa 1880 western mining town, mock gunfights in the streets, shops, and dining.

Distance: 40 miles/64 km

GOODSPRINGS: South on Interstate 15 you'll find a short detour on State Route 161 to Goodsprings and its claim to fame, the Pioneer Saloon. This saloon, favored by traveling motorcyclists and history buffs, is where Clark Gable sat for three days waiting to hear the fate of his love, Carole Lombard, after her airplane crashed on nearby Mount Potosi. The saloon is filled with decades of memorabilia, and there are still century-old gunfight bullet holes in the walls.

Day 2

Distance: 96 miles/155 km

LAUGHLIN: Head south on U.S. Highway 95 then east State Route 163 to Laughlin, a gaming town on the Colorado River. Large hotel-resorts line the river, where visitors can lounge, rent boats or Jet Skis, or explore the numerous outdoor destinations including Big Bend State Recreation Area, Black Mountains, and Lake Mohave.

Valley of Fire State Park

Lost City Museum, Overton

Day 3

Distance: 25 miles/40 km

BOULDER CITY: Founded in the 1930s to house the builders of the Hoover Dam—then known as the Boulder Dam—Boulder City is one of two towns in Nevada where gaming is illegal (the other town is Panaca). Its idyllic downtown and bungalow-style homes make it a favorite retreat for visitors to the Las Vegas region. The Nevada State Railroad Museum, Boulder City, offers an interesting look at Nevada's locomotive past and offers train rides aboard the Nevada Southern Railway.

Distance: 8 miles/13 km

HOOVER DAM: Hoover Dam is a world-famous man-made wonder, and it's a mere hour's drive from the Las Vegas Strip. Allow a little extra time to walk across the dam bypass bridge, officially known as the Mike O'Callaghan – Pat Tillman Memorial Bridge. This will give you the best, unobstructed views of the dam.

Distance: 67 miles/108 km

VALLEY OF FIRE: If you packed your hiking shoes, take a scenic drive along Lake Mead from Hoover Dam to Valley of Fire State Park. The park is one of southern Nevada's natural wonders, with deeply carved rock formations in fiery hues just minutes off I-15.

Distance: 14 miles/23 km

LOST CITY MUSEUM: Depart Valley of Fire to the northeast to reach Overton. Here you'll find the Lost City Museum, a state museum dedicated to the history of Nevada's indigenous tribes (Puebloan). It features artifacts from Pueblo Grande de Nevada, an Puebloan settlement excavated nearby, and a reconstructed adobe village.

Day 4

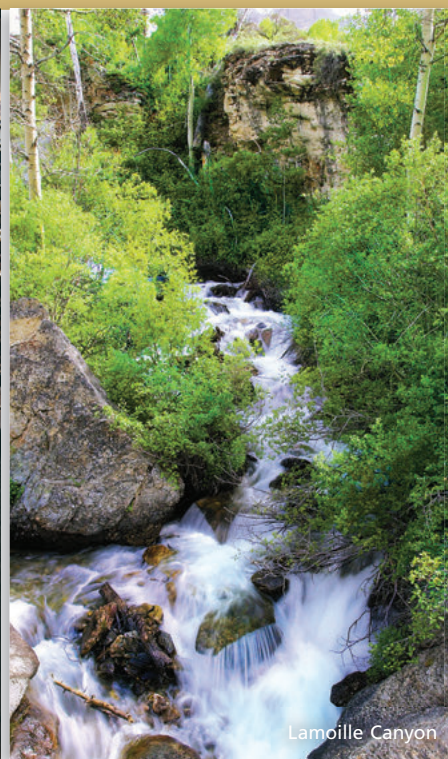

Distance: 90 miles/145 km

DEATH VALLEY: You can't do day trips out of Las Vegas without going to Death Valley National Park. The famous park is easily accessed through Pahrump, a town about an hour west of Las Vegas. Gas up the car, buy food, water, and sunscreen, and venture into the unparalleled landscape that is Death Valley.

Some of the park's highlights that are easily visited in one day are Dante's View, Badwater, Devil's Golf Course, Artists Palette, Zabriskie Point, and Furnace Creek. The park is open year-round, but some services are limited in the summer months.

McGill

Lamoille Canyon

INTERSTATE 80 AND HIGHWAY 50 LOOP

FIVE DAYS, 788 MILES/1,268 KM

Day 1

Distance: 288 miles/464 km

Start in Reno and head east on Interstate 80 to Lovelock. This little town is the perfect place to gas up the car, get some food, and surprise your loved one by “locking your love” at Lovers Lock Plaza behind the Pershing County Courthouse. Keep the lock’s key as a token of your love or follow the ancient Chinese custom of throwing it away—as long as your lock remains on the chain, your love will last.

As you continue east, take time to appreciate Nevada’s western heritage by driving through Winnemucca. Don’t worry: you’re only a few hours from your day’s destination, Elko.

As you near Elko, you’ll see the California Trail Interpretive Center on your left. This is a superb study of the challenges western California Trail explorers endured. It’s situated right on the trail within view of the Hastings Cutoff, a supposed shortcut to California that most of the doomed Donner Party took.

You’ll spend the night in Elko, where there are plenty of hotels and restaurants available. The Star Hotel is a Basque restaurant that was voted a Nevada Treasure in 2012, and it’s a must-visit during your stay in Elko.

Day 2

Elko is a bona fide cowboy town, host to the annual National Cowboy Poetry Gathering and a vibrant hub of ranching and mining in eastern Nevada. Spend some time downtown at the Western Folklife Center or venture out to Lamoille Canyon and the Ruby Mountains.

Day 3

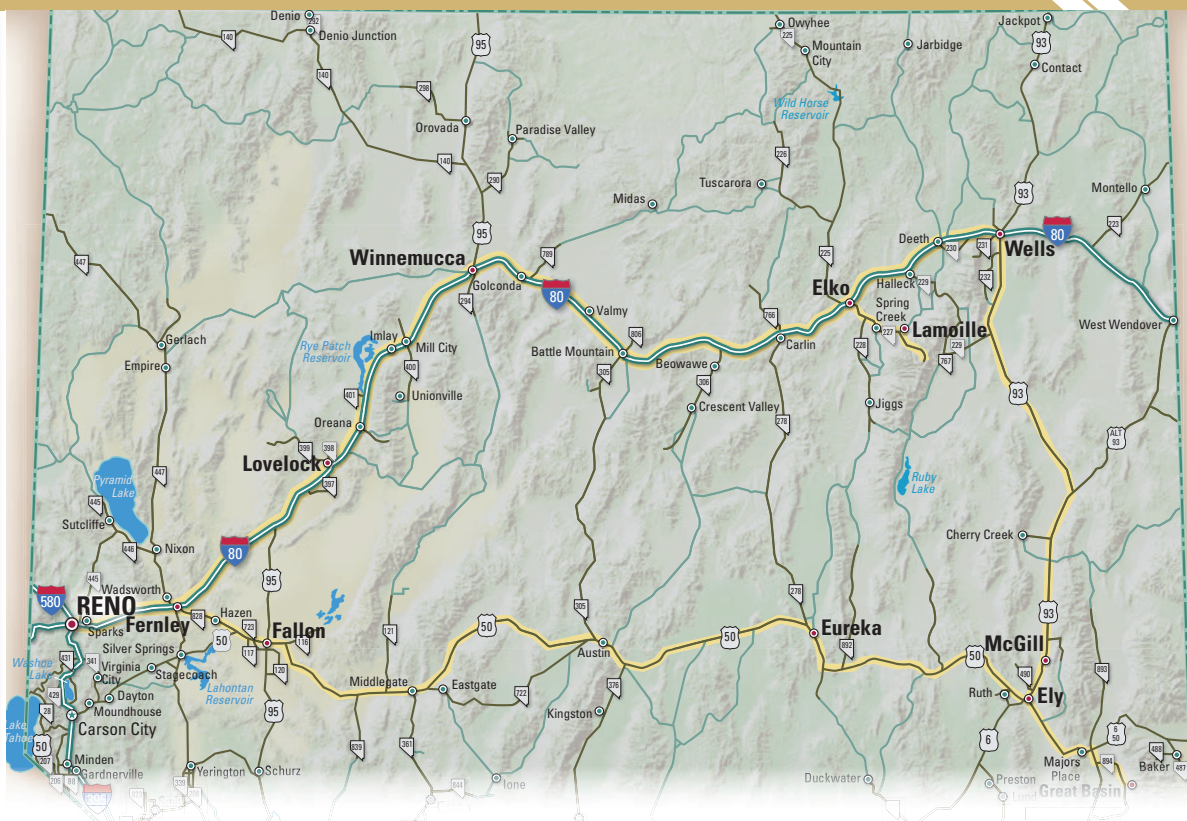

Distance: 180 miles/290 km

Tip your hat to Elko as you venture eastward to Wells, where you’ll turn south on U.S. Highway 93. Stop at the McGill Drugstore Museum as you near Ely, a place frozen in time, complete with a 1930s soda fountain. Be sure to call ahead to arrange a tour.

When you arrive in Ely, choose from an array of modern and historic hotels. The Hotel Nevada is a perennial favorite, with its movie-star themed rooms and taxidermy trophies scattered throughout the casino. As you explore Ely, you'll find a fascinating Renaissance Village with reconstructed homes honoring the nationalities and cultures that settled the area, including Chinese, French, Greek, and Italian. Also scattered throughout town are murals depicting Ely's history, larger-than-life images of the railroad, a Basque sheepherder, the Pony Express, and miners.

Day 4

Don't check out of your hotel; Ely is your home for one more night. Today you'll drive an hour to Great Basin National Park. The naturally ornate Lehman Caves are open year-round, while the park's high-elevation trails are weather-dependent. In the summer months, a hike to ancient bristlecone pine trees—some of which date more than 3,000 years old—is an unforgettable experience. Other outdoor recreation can be found at Cave Lake State Park.

This is also a good day to visit the Nevada Northern Railway and take a ride on the Ghost Train. Railroads are a big part of Nevada's history, and the Ghost Train is one of the iconic western steam engines.

Day 5

Distance: 320 miles/515 km

Your return to Reno will take about five hours nonstop, but we don't recommend that. Head west on Highway 50, also known as the "Loneliest Road in America," and stop in Eureka to tour the Eureka Opera House, the Eureka Sentinel Museum, and the courthouse. About an hour farther west is Austin, a quintessential American town with small shops lining the main street and a historic saloon anchoring its west end. Check out the Catholic church, which is being renovated and turned into a cultural center.

As you continue west toward Fallon, keep your eyes to the sky and you may see military aircraft performing training maneuvers. The famed Top Gun program is conducted at Naval Air Station, Fallon, and fighter jets are a common sight above Highway 50. You may want to stop at Sand Mountain, a two-mile-long sand dune tucked into the base of the mountains on your right. You can also take a short walk through the ruins of a Pony Express Station here.

You'll rejoin I-80 at the town of Fernley, and conclude your journey back in Reno.

Pyramid Lake

Lake Tahoe

BASE CAMP: RENO—FOUR DAYS OF DAY TRIPS

Day 1

Arrive in Reno by plane, train, or automobile and get ready for your adventure!

Distance: 37 miles/60 km

PYRAMID LAKE: Head north on Pyramid Highway (State Route 445) for about 45 minutes to Pyramid Lake. You will junction with the Pyramid Lake National Scenic Byway, which has the distinction of being the only national scenic byway entirely within an American Indian reservation. To the northwest is Sutcliffe with a trout hatchery that is interesting for all ages.

If you head southeast, you can follow the highway around the bottom half of the lake and see Anaho Island, one of the largest nesting areas for pelicans in North America. Watch the diving birds of prey for a while before continuing on to Nixon. Here you can visit the Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe Visitors Center and Museum and learn about the tribe and hear traditional folk stories, such as how the rock formation called Stone Mother got her name.

If you're feeling adventurous, continue north on State Route 447 to the town of Gerlach and the Black Rock Desert. For 10 days each summer, the desert is home to the counterculture event called Burning Man. For the other 355 days of the year, it is a serene, stark mixture of desert, mountains, and hidden hot springs.

Day 2

Distance: 26 miles/42 km

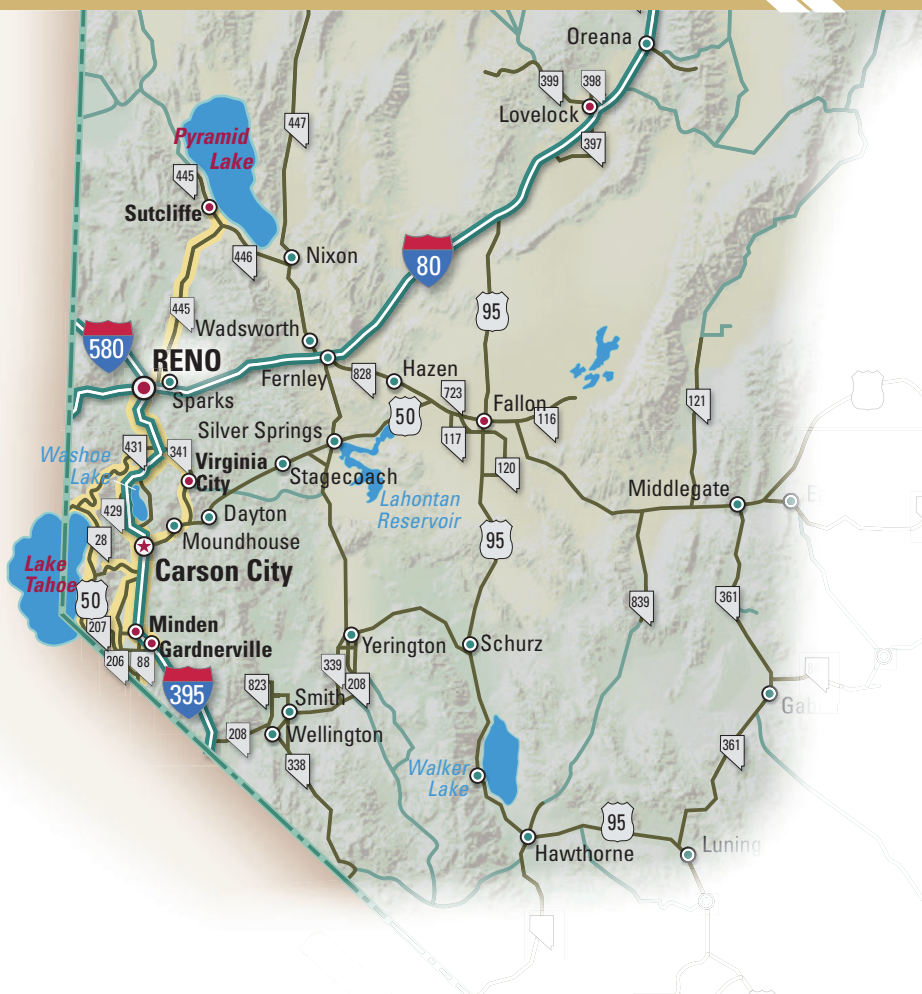

VIRGINIA CITY: Step back in time—150 years to be exact—when you enter Virginia City, only 45 minutes from downtown Reno. Wooden sidewalks, saloons, Mark Twain artifacts and memorabilia, and a whole lot of fun await in this town best known as the home of the Cartwrights in the TV show “Bonanza.” A trolley ride is the best way to learn the history of the town and see the sights before spending the day shopping, taking old-fashioned photos, and sidling up to a genuine saloon bar. There are plenty of restaurants and B&Bs, as well as a large hotel for those who wish to forgo the serpentine mountain road back to Reno in the dark.

Virginia City

Nevada's Capitol, Carson City

Day 3

Distance: 28 miles/45 km

CARSON CITY: The state capital is only a half-hour south of Reno, making it an easy day trip from the Biggest Little City. Some highlights along main street include the capitol building, Nevada State Museum, and Nevada State Railroad Museum, which often runs diesel or steam trains for visitors.

Carson City and the surrounding area boast nine golf courses, collectively called "The Divine Nine." Those who are interested in the city's history should walk the self-guided Kit Carson Trail through historic downtown.

Carson Valley is just a short drive farther south on U.S. Highway 395 and is marked by vast ranches, quaint antique shops and Victorian homes. Tahoe Ridge Winery, one of Nevada's four wineries, has a tasting room and restaurant in Carson Valley—a perfect place for wine-tasting and lunch during your shopping.

Day 4

Distance: 35 miles/56 km

LAKE TAHOE: Described by Mark Twain as "the fairest picture the whole earth affords," Lake Tahoe is a jewel in Nevada's crown. The north shore is anchored by the town of Incline Village, which boasts two golf courses, a ski resort, and two lakefront hotels. The town of Stateline holds court on the south shore and is known for its large-scale casino-resorts, Heavenly Mountain Resort, and Edgewood Tahoe Golf Course.

In the summer, the lake is abuzz with water and beach fun, hiking on the Tahoe Rim Trail, and bicycling. The winter months turn Tahoe into a skiers' paradise. The region has the highest concentration of skiable terrain in North America, and resorts that are easily accessible from Reno via car or shuttle service. You could easily spend a week at Lake Tahoe, so if one day doesn't do it for you, use this guide to plan your next trip too!

INDIAN TERRITORY

Nevada's Indian Territory is rich and robust in Western heritage. Whether you have one day or a few, you'll find fascinating people, places, and adventures that represent 27 active American Indian communities in Nevada.

In Overton, discover the Lost City Museum, just one hour from Las Vegas. Worth the drive via Valley of Fire State Park, the road crosses rich red rock vistas before reaching the site of early Puebloans. A treat for archeologists and artists alike— view artifacts and scout the authentic Indian jewelry and crafts in the museum store, too.

Powwows abound in the Nevada desert, offering glimpses of traditional Indian dance, music, food, and crafts from every corner of the state. The annual Las Vegas Snow Mountain Powwow in May gives people a rare chance to experience artists in full regalia and families reconnecting.

In Carson City, check out the Stewart Father's Day Powwow and join nearby American Indian communities as they celebrate at the site of the historic former Indian school. Taste an Indian taco before you head down the road to the Nevada State Museum, home of a world-renowned collection of 19th century handcrafted woven baskets made famous by artist Dat So La Lee. Take in "Under One Sky," a full museum wing of Indian contributions to Nevada.

Fashion takes form in Wadsworth at the annual Women's Buckskin Dance. Try your hand at the Fishing Derby in Sutcliffe and sample the successes of the Great Basin Native American Market in Elko. Sneak a peek in the Nevada Historical Society in Reno for a copy of "Tales of Wovoka," the story of a Paiute prophet and the Ghost Dance.

All of Nevada is Indian Territory. Wherever you go, you'll be right around the corner from the native experience.

LAS VEGAS TERRITORY

Welcome to the Entertainment Capital of the World! Las Vegas is well known as a place where you can shop, dine, lounge by the pool, golf, dance, and be entertained—at any hour of the day or night.

But did you know there are ancient Indian petroglyphs just one hour's drive outside the city? Or that some of the nation's best rock climbing is a short 30-minute drive from the Strip? Or that you can ski and golf in the same day? Yes, from Valley of Fire State Park to Red Rock Canyon to Mount Charleston, there are unexpected and amazing adventures just a short jaunt from the Las Vegas Strip.

Venturing outside the city limits, you'll find one of the tallest, fastest roller coasters on Earth in the town of Primm, which also boasts some of the best outlet shopping in Southern Nevada. Just two hours south of Las Vegas is the riverfront town of Laughlin, where outdoor adventure awaits just beyond the casino lights. Mesquite, 90 minutes east, is a golfer's paradise, a lush oasis of greens settled into the quaint town on Nevada's eastern border.

Don't forget to visit the iconic Hoover Dam or take an unforgettable helicopter ride to the Grand Canyon. Get a taste of "vintage Vegas" downtown, where the Mob Museum and Neon Museum remind us what Sin City looked like only a few decades ago.

Feeling overwhelmed, like there's too much to see and do? That's OK. There's always a pool party going on where you can let the Southern Nevada sun melt away your cares or rev your engines for the night's adventures awaiting you!

Visit Laughlin

The sunny city of Laughlin sits on the southern tip of Nevada in the Colorado River Valley. The area offers visitors a wide range of activities, and there is something fun for everyone.

Tee off on the banks of the Colorado River, with the dramatic desert surrounding you. Looking for water sports? Go fishing, water-skiing, Jet Skiing, swimming, or stay above water on a boat cruise. Don't miss the Big Bend of the Colorado State Recreation Area. Its dramatic river and mountain views make it a great spot for a picnic. Then there are the beautiful Black Mountains, Grapevine Canyon and Spirit Mountain, ideal spots to see interesting rock formations and American Indian petroglyphs. Anglers can try for crappie, bluegill, trout and striped bass at both Lake Mojave and the Colorado River.

And there are still more ways for visitors to amuse themselves in and out of town, with tours and rentals of everything from ATVs and Hummers to boats and kayaks. Beyond the gaming and recreational pursuits, Laughlin has a vast range of events. From poker tournaments to the largest motorcycle-oriented event on the West Coast, the city's celebrations are eagerly anticipated for a good reason. And within just two hours' driving time, visitors will find Valley of Fire State Park, the Hoover Dam, and fabulous Las Vegas.

Thanks to the year-round warm weather, the time is always right for a Laughlin vacation.

RENO-TAHOE TERRITORY

On the western edge of Nevada, find a world of activities and adventures. Reno-Tahoe Territory offers plenty—natural areas for outdoor recreation, historic sites for trips into the past, and an abundance of special events.

Lake Tahoe, surrounded by the mountains of the Sierra Nevada and the Carson Range, draws visitors for summer and winter recreation. Beaches scattered along the 72-mile shoreline provide access points for paddle boarding, kayaking, and more. Here also are forested areas such as Spooner Backcountry, home to miles of trails for hiking, mountain biking, and horseback riding. Winter turns the region into a wonderland for skiing, snowshoeing, and snowmobiling.

The Reno-Tahoe area is full of historic sites to explore. Virginia City, developed after an 1859 mining strike, today is a National Historic Landmark. The town of Genoa claims Mormon Station, the state's first permanent non-native settlement. Such treasures as the Dangberg Home Ranch Historic Park and Thunderbird Lodge are just a few of the ways to revisit the past.

Reno-Tahoe's festivals and events provide the perfect excuse for a getaway trip. The Lake Tahoe Shakespeare Festival, Virginia City International Camel Races, and TravelNevada.com Reno Air Races are events you don't want to miss.

From special events to outdoor recreation, there's a world of exploration in Reno-Tahoe Territory.

The logo for Reno Tahoe USA is a stylized emblem. It features the word "RENO" in large, outlined, retro-style letters within an orange shield-like shape. Below this, a small mountain range is depicted. Underneath the mountains, the word "TAHOE" is written in bold, white, sans-serif capital letters on a black background, flanked by two orange stars. At the bottom, the word "USA" is written in white, sans-serif capital letters on a black background, with horizontal lines on either side. The entire logo is set against a white background.

COWBOY COUNTRY

Welcome to Cowboy Country, the vast, open space of northern Nevada where “cowboy” is more than a noun, it’s a way of life. Boots and saddles are serious business here, and cattle have the right-of-way through town. This is the real American West, and you’ve found it in Nevada.

Spend a few days in Elko in January and you’ll be treated to the National Cowboy Poetry Gathering. Return in July for the National Basque Festival, where chorizo and red wine take center stage in this celebration of Basque culture. If you feel up to the challenge, spend your vacation beyond the reach of cell phone towers tending to cattle at a local guest ranch.

West Wendover, on the state’s eastern border, is home to the Historic Wendover Air Field, a vital outpost during World War II. Winnemucca is the gateway to Nevada’s rugged and lush mountains to the north and vast desert to the west.

Take romance for a spin through Lovelock, where you can visit the only remaining round courthouse in America and “lock your love” in the courthouse plaza.

When you venture away from the busy interstate and bustling country towns, you’ll find some of the most pristine wilderness in the western United States. You’ll find abundant wildlife, challenging hikes and climbs, and immense expanses of the American West.

Elko County, by Kristin Boag

Silver State Stampede, Elko, by James Shyne

PONY EXPRESS TERRITORY

The Pony Express only lasted for 18 months, but left an indelible mark on the American West. Today, visitors can travel alongside the historic mail route through Nevada's Pony Express Territory. Visit the ruins of the mail stops and the ghost towns that dot the landscape as you make your way east and west across the Silver State.

Your trek will take you on U.S. Highway 50, known as "The Loneliest Road in America." Solitude and tranquility infuse the sagebrush sea along this ribbon of highway, and each town tells the story of the boom and bust of Nevada's mining heyday. Ely, once a major resting point for Hollywood celebrities on their way to vacation in Idaho, now sparkles with vintage neon and a classic American "Main Street." Eureka is a tribute to the cosmopolitan life that existed even in the far reaches of the West in the 1800s, with its stately opera house and courthouse. This is a vibrant artists' community too.

Many a traveler seeks to get lost in Austin, where miles of mountain-bike trails showcase the beauty of Nevada's high desert. Historic churches stand watch over downtown, where shops sell locally mined turquoise.

Fallon is farmland, a lush agricultural area where you can visit one of Nevada's four wineries and sample food grown just outside the city limits.

Pony Express Territory is the explorer's territory, where rugged beauty shines through sagebrush and in the snowcapped mountains across the Silver State.

Explore the Loneliest Road in America.

A map of Highway 50 in Nevada, known as "The Loneliest Road in America." The map shows the route from Dayton to Ely, with stops at Fernley, Fallon, Austin, Eureka, and Ely. Various scenic photos are placed along the route, including a desert landscape, a sunset, a herd of bison, a lighthouse, a train, and a river. A sign for "EAST 50" is shown at the top right.

Experience Nevada's Pony Express Territory.
Highway 50, known as "The Loneliest Road in America," follows the historic Pony Express route across central Nevada. Although it might seem a bit lonely, there's a lot to see and do around the communities of Pony Express Territory. Visit PonyExpressNevada.com for a Highway 50 Survival Kit.

NEVADA SILVER TRAILS

Nevada Silver Trails covers the large swath of the Silver State between Las Vegas and Highway 50. The moniker is a nod to the state's lucrative silver mines that boomed in the early 1900s and faded away as quickly as they came. This is an ethereal portion of Nevada, where solitude reigns supreme.

This is where you can travel the Extraterrestrial Highway and dine on an Alien Burger with a heaping side of UFO tales. Test your grit in Death Valley National Park and search for spirits in the iconic ghost town of Rhyolite on the northeast entrance to the park. Then find refreshment in the gateway city of Pahrump, which boasts two of the state's four wineries.

Tonopah, "Queen of the Silver Camps," is the perfect resting spot between Reno and Las Vegas, where you can stay in the Mizpah Hotel and tour the Tonopah Historic Mining Park. Look for ghosts and bones at the Berlin-Ichthyosaur State Park, a fascinating combo of a ghost town, mine, and dinosaur fossil site. Stand on the very spot of the "Battle of the Century," the Nelson vs. Gans boxing match in Goldfield in 1906.

There's a lot of sagebrush and pine between the towns that dot the Silver Trails landscape. And there's a lot to be discovered amid the ruins of ghost towns off the trail.

The mission-style railroad depot was built in 1923, and the Boxcar Museum is located adjacent to the depot near the tracks in Caliente.

775-728-4460, lincolncountynevada.com

GOLD POINT GHOST TOWN, GOLD POINT

A mining town that had its beginning in 1868, Gold Point thrived until the 1960s, when an accident shuttered the industry. Today, roughly 30 residents welcome visitors to tour the town.

775-482-4653, goldpointghosttown.com

THE HISTORIC TOWN OF GOLDFIELD

Founded in 1903, this gold mining town was once the most populated town in Nevada. Sights include the Historic Equipment Park, the Esmeralda County Courthouse, and the Santa Fe Saloon, built in 1905. Inquire at local businesses for a free walking map.

775-485-3560, goldfieldnevada.org

MILLION DOLLAR COURTHOUSE, PIOCHE

After costing taxpayers nearly $1 million dollars to build in 1872, the building now serves as a museum.

775-962-5544, piochenevada.com

RHYOLITE

One of the most photographed towns of the Old West lies just four miles outside of Beatty. The famous Bottle House, old railroad depot, and concrete ruins are all that remain.

866-736-3716, beattynevada.org

SCOTTY'S CASTLE, DEATH VALLEY

Located 53 miles southwest of the Goldfield ghost town, visitors can tour the massive Spanish-style stucco mansion built in the 1920s. Daily living history tours tell the stories of Walter Scott's exploits.

A vintage photograph of a desert highway. In the background, a large green shield with 'HWY 50' is visible. The road stretches into the distance under a blue sky with clouds. In the foreground, a car's side mirror reflects a cowboy on a horse. A road sign on the left reads 'HWY 50 The Loneliest Road in America'.

287 MILES OF RECORDED HISTORY

Travel along "The Loneliest Road in America," U.S. Highway 50, and see if you can survive the historic route the Pony Express riders traversed more than 100 years ago.
